LOCAL MATTERS.

JOB PRINTING.

We would remind our friends, and the public, that we are ready to do all kinds of JOB PRINTING at a short notice. Our material is entirely new, and our stock of the latest styles of types.

Orders left at the Counting Room, on the ground floor, next door to the Post Office, will be promptly attended to.

☞ Our subscribers will confer a favor by giving immediate notice at the Counting Room of the office of every omission on the part of the Carriers to deliver their papers. This is the only way to insure the delivery of their paper.

THE OLD COURT HOUSE AND PRISON.—These old and faithful relics of what Chicago was, received their doom yesterday. Amidst considerable amusement they were knocked down under the contractor's hammer. The prison which has long been a nuisance to all without, it (though perhaps not so great a bore as to the victims within,) was sold for one hundred and twenty five dollars, and the court house for two hundred and seven. The Court house was one of the first brick buildings in the city, and doubtless when first erected, was looked on as a considerable affair. Alas! how mutable is all earthly glory. Like many, not so old as itself, it has lived to see its own shame, and to feel itself despised, even by those who once were its greatest admirers. Mr. Chapman purchased the former, and Mr. McAuley the latter building.

MRS. MAGELLAN'S LECTURE.—Mrs. Markham has now been amongst us long enough to become independent of the excellent credentials by which she first introduced herself to us. We do not speak for ourselves, as we are not a lady, but the editor of our Home Department, and others of our fair friends and relations, assure us that the Lectures are most instructive and valuable, and urge us to express their conviction through our paper. We have no doubt many a one would attend, if sure one else would take the lead. There is something of the fashionable and gregarious in such matters, especially in our county where there is a full share of proud shame.

The class is increasing in numbers, but is not worthy of the city. In small towns these classes have numbered nearly two hundred. The terms are low, which must not lead any to conclude that the lectures are cheap affairs. Our hope is that they will be repeated, and that many more will profit from them.

Those who have never seen a "Modelle," should not lose this opportunity. It is a wonderful work of mechanism, science and art.

ANDREAS LAUDS FAIR.—We are requested to inform our readers, and especially the fair ones, that the Ladies connected with the Church of the Atonement have determined to hold a Fair, at the Commercial Hotel Hall, corner of Randolph and Canal streets, on Thursday next, Dec. 23d. As many of our readers know, the friends of this church have made a most laudable effort to procure an elegant place of worship. Their labor has been crowned with success, and for the two last Sabbaths they have occupied their new church. The church is one of the greatest ornaments in the West of this city, and its exterior is a faithful representation of the old English style, simple, yet, will its towering roof and sorrastital buttresses, beautiful to look upon. With a worthy determination to "or e no man anything," they have suffered no debt to accumulate on their hands. Now, however, the church has to be furnished; and this the ladies have generously taken in hand. They have diligently plied their needle and their skill to produce those articles which will be both useful and ornamental. They ask, and surely they will not ask in vain—other denominations and the public kindly to send their offerings to the Fair. The results of their handiwork will be offered for sale on Thursday evening next at the place above mentioned.—Admittance 25 cts.—remember the occasion.

BAPTIST FAIR.—Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather during Thursday and Friday evening, the friends of the First Baptist Church nothing daunted, assembled in goodly numbers at the Ladies' Fair in the City Hall, and by the close of the latter evening, the stalls, which had been well furnished with the useful and ornamental, were well cleared. On Saturday the remaining portions of the perishables were disposed of by auction. The proceeds were upwards of $500.

THE PARK.—The ladies of the Universalist Society have made arrangements for a Tea Party, to aid in paying the Church debt. It will take place on Christmas Eve, and every effort will be used to make the occasion agreeable and interesting. The "Irving Hall," probably the most beautiful and tastefully furnished of any in the city, has been secured; also the services of Campbell's Brass Band. Tickets $1 50 each, admitting a gentleman and two ladies—to be obtained at the Covenant office and at the door. Refreshments will be served up at a moderate charge.

THE "JOURNAL."—Our neighbor on Saturday came out in a new and very attractive attire.—The vignette is also new and graceful. From the ashes of the old eagle, a new, noble, and spirited bird has come forth, and under his flapping wings, the Prairie City stretches in the distance. We conclude that this is emblematic of renewed vigor, and a higher and nobler career.

THE Great Western Canada Railroad.

The Toronto Examiner gives the following account of the progress of this great work.

"The line progresses, we learn, with great rapidity, but the heaviest works upon the section immediately west of Hamilton, it is thought, will not be completed from end to end to be opened through-out in 1853. The cutting through of Burlington Heights is itself a gigantic undertaking, but was rendered necessary by the difficulties which interposed to prevent the bridging of the outlet of the waters of the Desjardin's Canal, and of the marsh. This work is perhaps about half-done, and the wire bridge which is to span the height on the main road, at the elevation of about 150 feet above the level of the canal in its new channel, and having a span of about 190 feet, will soon be completed. The towers have been suspended on one side, while the chief part of the bridge is finished, and in one, although not suspended, the earth under is not having yet been removed.

"There has been a great loss of human life on this line—more than about 40 persons having been killed by the falling of embankments; nearly three would be accessible of this kind, were proper precautions employed. Were the Company made responsible for the support of the families of those that are killed by neglect of precautions, the difficulty would be found in the augmented expenses part of this section of the mountain gorge rapidly approaching completion, with the exception of the great embankment, which, rising about 300 feet above the level of the canal, will require about 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth, which are now being conveyed to the spot by the required level for many months. The deep cutting at Cape Town has been completed, and the last of the difficult works at Dundas is now at last with the aid of steam power, gone forward as rapidly on the eastern of the two sides of the valley. The Company is under the pressure of heavy interests give an assurance that there will be no unnecessary delay in bringing the work to a termination. The company running the line from Buffalo to Paris, are doing energy to the work on the Great Western, and vice versa.—Both aim at the trade and passage through the south-west western districts of the province. The city of Hamilton, the prospect of which is so fine in position, when the Great Western line is opened, goes forward with great rapidity in its improvements."

Knick-Knacks.

THE HEART.—Trifle not with the human heart. It requires a thousand years to form it, and but a breath can break it. When it is not in the power of man to restore it again. If you are bored and annoyed with the world, if you cannot respect that love, treat it not with contempt. Remember that love once sincere is never and wealth shall never and wealth happy.

Summary of News.

A CORRESPONDENT at WASHINGTON of a Cleveland paper, says:—"I am inclined to think that from the long intimacy between the President elect and Gen. Cushing, that the latter will find a place in the Cabinet.

THE BALTIMORE AND SUSQUEHANNA RAILROAD is to make their city the great depot for Western flour. To effect the object, it is proposed and urged that the freight on flour from Cincinnati to Baltimore shall be eighty cents per barrel—twenty cents, by the river, to Wheeling, and sixty cents, by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, to Baltimore.

THE VOTE FOR HALE IN NEW YORK was 95,443.

THE CELEBRATED WOMAN, MRS. DARRAGH, better known to the public as "Fanny Wright," died at her residence in Cincinnati, on the 14th.

THE WHIGS, OF OHIO, in Commercial Convention, Delaware, are in power, and declare the call of that body illegal. A proposition to ad journ without day was under discussion.

IN THE SUIT BROUGHT AGAINST THE EUROPEAN steamship Arctic, for coming in collision with the steaming Moss, damages to the extent of £300 had been awarded against the Arctic.

IT IS SAID THAT THE STOCK IN THE CENTRAL Railroad, New York, is sold as high as 40 cents premium.

A WHITE FISH WAS CAUGHT AT TWO RIVERS a few days since, weighing 13½ pounds.

"TWIN RIVERS INDUSTRY," says the MANITOWOCK (Wis.) Herald. The Catholic Church is finished and is a very creditable and substantial edifice.

THE LAKE SHORE ROAD.—The Oshkosh Courier pledges that town for a subscription of $72,000 for the completion of the Milwaukee and Fond du Lac Railroad to Oshkosh.

IN the MANITOWOC, (WIS.) HERALD of the 11th inst., appears a petition signed by 67 taxpayers of Manitowoc county, praying the Legislature to authorize a special tax for the improvement of the Manitowoc and Calumet road.

LIEUT. DAVENPORT, IT IS SAID, WILL RETURN TO the Crescent City Steamer; the Spanish authorities having consented to take off the interdict against Purser Smith.

FIFTY-TWO YEARS AGO NEW-YORK CITY GAVE 5,660 votes—with a democratic majority of about 400. That vote decided the election in favor of Mr. Jefferson.

CALIFORNIA SENDS, POLITICALLY, IN SENATE, Democrats 6, Whigs 7. House, Democrats 41, Whigs 19.

THE PLOWING MILL AT WISCONSIA, (WIS.,) OWNED by Messrs. Hunter & Cyer, was destroyed by fire on the night of the 30th ult., supposed to have caught from the stove. Insured for $3,500.

THE GREAT BACKBONE RAILROAD IN OHIO, is securing the attention of the most prominent business men and capitalists of Columbus, who attended the Convention, at Massillon, of the great six foot gauge Railroad from Olean, through the mountains of Ohio to Cincinnati, and to St. Louis. There is intense interest, says the Columbus Journal, felt in this new road, and our native capitalists have determined that Columbus shall be a point on the route. Draw a straight line from Olean to Cincinnati and it passes through the Capital.

The Currency Question or Chicago Banks.

In this city there are thirteen Banks of issue, deposit and discount, and in the State twenty-one others, besides those of deposit and discount. These in Chicago are:

1. Bank of America.
2. " " Belvidere.
3. " " Illinois—Shawneetown, (closed.)
4. " " Bloomington—Bloomington.
5. " " Locus and Simonds—Springfield.
6. " " Ottawa—Ottawa.
7. Central Bank—Peoria.
8. Clark's Exchange Bank—Springfield.
9. Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank—Quincy.
10. Fox River Bank—Dundee.
11. Galena Bank—Geneva.
12. Illinois River Bank.
13. Illinois River Bank—Peru.
14. Merchants' and Farmers' Bank—Spring field.
15. Ogle Road Bank—Oregon.
16. Paris Bank—Paris.
17. Prairie State Bank—Washington.
18. Quincy City Bank—Quincy.
19. Rock Island Bank—Rock Island.
20. State Bank of Illinois—Springfield (closed)
21. Stock Security Bank—Danville.

Of these one City Bank (Bank of North America) and eight country Banks, according to Sheldon's Detector, are organized, but as yet have made no issue.

The buildings used by the Chicago Banks bring an annual rent of probably not less than $14,000, and their annual expenses besides are about $85,000. The question arises to what end is this expenditure? "To what purpose is this waste?" We propose to answer this question by presenting in a popular form the nature and necessity of Banks, and their advantages and evils to the community. We shall not write for the Banker, nor for the well-trained merchant, for they thoroughly understand already this whole subject of currency, but for the ordinary, the former, the private citizen, the laborer. In a word we shall write as one of the people to the People.

This subject of banking is one that the People need to understand, for it is our farmers, our artisans, and our quiet literary and unworldly men who reap the advantages of a good system and suffer the evils of a bad one. When a Bank fails, the loss never falls on the sister Banks and on the heavy merchants, for they know beforehand by careful scrutiny when the inflated bubble is to burst, but it falls on those least able to endure it—on the farmer who has received some money to exchange for their unholy purposes. The steamer then came to her wharf, and the news of the fire became public. Lumber went up, in their hands, to four hundred dollars a thousand and more than ever cost. Flour advanced to $45, Pork to $55 and $60, and other Provisions in proportion. Goods to the amount of several millions have already been shipped from this city to Sacramento, and the demand is yet brisk. A large number of wooden buildings have been taken down here and sent to that city. Several hundred temporary buildings have already been erected there, but the 'rainy season' is upon us, and it must present a melancholy scene of suffering, sickness and destitution. God help them!"

We shall endeavor to put our ideas in such a shape as to protect our articles from the criticism imposed on the bones in Ezekiel's vision, "they were very many, and lo! they were very dry." And yet such is the nature of the subject that unless a person feels an interest in it for its own sake, we would warn him not to expect to be interested in our presentation of it. The preface occupies as much space that we reserve the first chapter for to-morrow's paper. We need only add, in justice to ourselves (and to any sanguine spirits which may possibly be disturbed by anxiety for our independence), that no authority, control or guidance is held or exercised over the officers of the Tribune, who, as also are its proprietors, by any man or set of men, connected or unconnected with Banking institutions.

Charity.

The fact that, in a world filled with the bounties of a Divine providence, any should suffer lack, is a melancholy one. Yet in this is seen a law of administration making attainment dependent on fixed and righteous conditions; a law none the less apparent in the life of the lily and the sparrow, than in human life.—From the violation of these conditions failure and suffering follow, without regard to the moral character of this violation, and even when the words right and wrong are not applicable, it being done either unconsciously, or under necessity, as in the case of children suffering on account of the sins of the parent, or a man breathing miasma without the possibility of detecting its presence.

Poverty is not always the debt of the sufferer's negligence, and when it is, shall not the hand of charity be extended at the same time that the voice of instruction and reproof be given?

At those winter thistle blow, finding the nerves of even those "clad in purple and fine linen," will not the hand of charity provide warmth and protection for those who lack. An editorial in the N. Y. Times on this subject, has some pressing truths. We give an extract:

"THE TURKEY OR CHARITY.—Some persons, seeing how large are the demands of the poor and needy, and how many Societies and associations operate for their relief without supplying the demand, are disposed to be discouraged, and drawing themselves within their shell, determine to take care of themselves, and let others do the same.

But the suffering are our fellows. Misfortune may thrust us into just as miserable depths, and our children may sink to the destitution of theirs. We risk our claim to human sympathy if we regard without pity the sorrows of any human sufferer. The thoughtful will rather rejoice in any opportunity to relieve the relief of the poor, in the many forms of poverty exist. They will carefully observe which of them, with the smallest cost for the machinery of operation, does the most relief. Such a feeling will be much easier it is to break the egg than to kill the vulture that grows out of it, they lean with most favor towards those institutions which aim at prevention."

A LOOK AT LEADERS.

English Colonies.

England has a number of Colonies. Nearly every one of them are breathing out threats of rebellion.

Canada, and her sisters to the north of us, have often spoken very audibly of Annexation.

Jamaica, and her sisters to the South of us, have recently declared that, if certain of their demands were not speedily granted by England, they would throw off their allegiance at once.

While the Caffres are attacking the British possessions in Africa, the Cape Colonists are requiring a free Constitution or independence.

"From Australia," [—] quote a late steamer paragraph—"a Declaration of Independence is shortly expected."

British India is coveted by the Czar, whose proximity to it, and whose vast diplomatic power and military resources, are justly dreaded by the imbeciles who have now the ascendants of Downing street.

The Ionian Islands have been threatened with a French invasion.

The Principality, which has been dumb for centuries, has lately raised the cry of "Wales for the Welsh."

Ireland, it is said, is longing for Republicanism and independence; and certainly would behold with pleasure the downfall of her ruler's power, and would willingly assist her enemies.

Such is a brief sketch of the present condition of that "Empire on which the sun never sets;" the huge home of 180,000,000 of men.—N. Y. Times.

From the Sacramento Union.

THE FIRE RECORD.—At the time the fire broke out it seemed as if the element had conspired for the destruction of the city. A norther had just set in, and was blowing a stiff breeze from the northwest, which, after the fire commenced increased to a gale. The point at which the fire started, too, was the very one for sweeping the city, and before it had been burning five minutes it became evident that Sacramento was doomed to destruction. The fire companies were promptly on the spot; but in the face of such a wind and sea of fire, it was seen by all that they were powerless. Soon exhausted the water within reach, but produced not one particle of effect on the fire. It had obtained the mastery of that, and its puny arm was as little to be feared as a raging tiger. It would have been if directed against an ocean tempest. Men gathered in crowds—some looking on the waves of fire as they rolled from house to house, street to street, horror-stricken, fascinated, and apparently paralyzed by the terrible work of destruction going on before them, while others were hastening to save their goods and effects before the fire should reach them.

Then commenced a scene on the streets, which began all description—men, women and children, were seen frantically, and in the most fearful haste save something from the jaws of the devouring element. But, in most instances, their efforts were fruitless, and hundreds who started with Tuesday night with the consciousness of having plenty of the comforts of life around them, were standing the next morning on the place where domestic comfort was, without a dollar in their pockets, and with only the clothes they had on. It was an awful sight, and God grant that we may never be called upon to witness another such.

We quote from another letter:

"I have heard of a great many merchants and others, who, by years of energy and toil, had accumulated fortunes, there, and who are now not to the Atlantic States to fetch their families, from whom they have been separated since 1849 and '50, the most of them intending to bring them back to California, who by this calamity are reduced to poverty. On such the blow will fall with a crushing weight, and it is for them that our warmest sympathies are excited. The citizens of San Francisco, with unbounded liberality, have done every thing in their power to relieve the Sacramento sufferers; money and provisions from every quarter have been poured, with liberal hands; and everything is being done by the treasury of the Relief Committee. But there are always to be found in every community vampyres in human form, who will take advantage of any calamity to fill their purses with gold, an I such were not wanting on this occasion.

"While the fire was raging, four or five men chartered a steamboat and proceeded to this city with a view of purchasing and monopolizing all the lumber here, and all the provisions their money and credit would enable them to secure.—They arrived in safety, and in a boat from the mouth of North Beach, and she remained a few miles out in the Bay, refusing to land any other passengers for several hours, until these had time to accomplish their unholy purpose. The steamer then came to her wharf, and the news of the fire became public. Lumber went up, in their hands, to four hundred dollars a thousand and more than ever cost. Flour advanced to $45, Pork to $55 and $60, and other Provisions in proportion. Goods to the amount of several millions have already been shipped from this city to Sacramento, and the demand is yet brisk. A large number of wooden buildings have been taken down here and sent to that city. Several hundred temporary buildings have already been erected there, but the 'rainy season' is upon us, and it must present a melancholy scene of suffering, sickness and destitution. God help them!"

Illinois.

The first settlement in Illinois was in 1763, by the French, and during the same year it was ceded to England. At the close of the Revolutionary war the British garrisons and settlers in 1800 it was included within the Indian territory. At this period the number of inhabitants was estimated at 5,000.

In 1809 it was formed into a separate territory, and in 1810 its population had reached 12,294—an increase of over 200 per cent. in ten years.

In 1818 it became a State, and in 1820, contained a population of 55,211, being an increase of about 255 per cent. By this number the State was entitled to one member of Congress.

In 1840 the population numbered 158,155—an increase of a fraction less than 200 per cent. Under this enumeration the State was represented in Congress by three members.

In 1840 the population had reached 476,183—a gain of 200 per cent, and entitled the State to seven members of Congress.

In 1850 the population numbered 850,181, being a gain of 78 per cent., with a representation of nine members.

From the Carroll Republican of Tuesday

Savannah Branch Rail Road.

A meeting of the Directors and stockholders of the Freeport and Savanna Railroad was held on Saturday evening last, at the office of D. A. Knowlton, Esq., in Freeport, Mr. Knowlton made a statement of the progress of the affairs of the company, and presented the importance of the work and its advantages to the town of Freeport and the country generally. Sixty-three miles have already been graded, and considerable bridging done. Contracts are now let for the remainder of the road, and there is every assurance that the amount will be increased immediately to upwards of a hundred thousand. Mr. Knowlton had visited Chicago on the presence of the subject there. A large amount was subscribed and a lively interest manifested in the success of the enterprise.

Mr. Knowlton stated that he regarded the investment as more profitable than loaning money at 25 per cent. It is certainly more honorable.

At this meeting, measures were taken to secure a charter for a railroad to run from Freeport to the Wisconsin state line; for the purpose of connecting either with the western branch of the Rock River Valley Railroad or the Kenosha and Beloit road.

Mr. Wm. Norwich, chief engineer of the Galena and Chicago Railroad, and Mr. Knowlton, President of the Savanna Branch R. R. Co., will commence an examination of the different routes from Freeport to Savanna, preparatory to a survey and location of the road, to-morrow.

From the Fond Du Lac Herald.

Milwaukee and Fond Du Lac R. R.

The engineers engaged in the survey of the Milwaukee and Fond Du Lac Railroad are in town. We are informed by one of the company that the route is very feasible and one on which a road can be built upon a very low estimate. The distance is only 50 miles between the two cities, and but about 40 feet grade between them, and no expensive bridges in the whole distance. The engineers are at present examining different points of entry into this city. No particular route has been yet been selected. While we are glad God speed to the valley road; we say three cheers for the Milwaukee and Fond Du Lac road. With two railroads this city well be sure among earth fish.

SIZE IN PERU ILL.—On Thursday morning the 9th inst., between one and two o'clock, a fire broke out in the Tin Shop over the Hardware Store of E. Higgins & Co., which, together with the adjoining shop occupied by J. H. Mc. as a Dry Goods Store, were entirely destroyed. E. Higgins & Co. were insured for $8,000. Loss about $14,000. Mr. McMillan was insured for $6,000. Loss over $7,000 to $8,000. The buildings were owned by T. D. Brewster and Churchill Coffing' Esqrs., and were not insured. Their loss will be about $3,000 each.—The damage to Dr. S. Smith, by the water, removing goods, &c., will be about $200.—Democrat.

A HINT TO FARMERS.—"The merciful man is merciful to his beast"—and so is the wise and shrewd farmer. Take care of your stock. Better stinted fodder and attention now will be for the interest of all who have domestic animal to winter. Stables and sheds should be in order. Remember that water whether for stock in to a considerable extent, equivalent to food, and hence important on the score of economy. If exposed to the storms and severe weather, they will require much more forage to carry them through the winter properly.

THE MEMBRAIN.—This heat which has had so many colored women escape this fall succeeded in saving herself from being laid up in Green Bay all winter by almost a length of a day. She came down from that place yesterday, bringing down a thousand barrels of white fish. It was much colder at Green Bay than at any other point, and the ice had nearly closed that harbor. At Mackinaw, there was no ice on the lake, but there had been considerable snow, and the people were enjoying good sleighing.—Detroit Advertiser.

Report of the Secretary of War.

The following is a very clear and brief abstract of the Report of the Secretary of War, taken from the Philadelphia Inquirer, which was transmitted to Congress by the President, as one of the documents accompanying his message. The report itself is brief, and energetic in language. Its suggestions appear to be sound and practical.

Our Frontiers.—Of about 11,000 officers and men on the rolls of the Army, about 8000 are employed in defence of Texas, New Mexico, California and Oregon, or of emigrants destined for the two last. With the exception of a portion of the Rio Grande country, the frontiers have been comparatively exempt from Indian depredations.

The Indians.—In New Mexico the depredations of the Indians have been entirely arrested. The Yuma Indians have agreed to a peace.

The United States Troops.—The United States troops stationed on the frontier, are engaged in a service in which they are exposed to all the dangers and hardships of war, without its hopes of honorable distinction. Warm testimony as to the cheerfulness and alacrity with which their duties had been discharged, is given the Secretary. The names of Major Gen. Smith, Col. Thomas and Gen. Hitchcock, are particularly mentioned.

Forts.—The attempt to cultivate farms by the troops has on only been entirely successful in some of their dominant activity in military movements.

Expenses.—The expenses of the Quartermaster's Department exhibit a reduction of $301,353.

The New Forces.—The Secretary repeats the suggestion, that sound policy no less than humanity, requires that some other means than force should be tried to restrain the Indians, and to prevent the frequent collisions that occur among them and the white inhabitants, of their respective neighborhoods.

Texas and New Mexico.—It is suggested that an arrangement be made with the State of Texas, by which a portion of her vast domain may be temporarily allotted to the exclusive occupancy of the Indians within her borders. It is also suggested that the inhabitants of New Mexico be induced to abandon a country which seems hardly fit for the habitation of civilized man. They should be remunerated for their property, and unless this plan be adopted, an additional regiment of mounted men is urged.

The Coast defences.—Attention is called to the condition of our Coast fortifications, and especially to those intended for the protection of our principal seaports and naval stations. They should be rendered as impregnable as possible.

Unfinished Works.—Congress is earnestly urged to make the necessary appropriations for their completion.

Heavy Ordnance.—This description of ordnance is said to be an indispensable part of any system of defence for our harbors.

Rivers and Harbors.—Additional appropriations are absolutely necessary.

The Zuni and Colorado Rivers.—The expedition sent to explore those rivers has returned but the report has not yet been submitted.

The Red River.—Capt. Marcy and his party, sent to explore the head waters of this river, have returned, but his Report of the Expedition has not yet been prepared.

The Military Academy.—The Secretary order has the usefulness of this institution.

The Armories.—The Armories at Springfield and Harper's Ferry, are in a satisfactory condition.

Armorial.—Such, as are no longer needed, should be abolished.

Commissaries.—An addition number should be authorized.

A Retired List.—A retired list of the army should be established in justice as well to disabled officers as those who are not.

Soldiers.—It is suggested that any person above the age of eighteen years, who shall enlist at of age, but shall afterwards turn out to be a minor, shall be obliged to serve out his term of enlistment.

Engineers.—In the event of further appropriations for river and harbor improvements and fortifications, additional Engineers are recommended.

The Medical Corps.—The Secretary is satisfied that it would be a measure of economy to increase the Medical Corps.

Pension Laws.—Mr. Conrad closes his Report with the suggestion that the Pension laws be so amended as to place the widows and orphans of the officers of the army on an equal footing with those of naval officers.

From the N. Y. Tribune.

Nativity of the American Population.

One of the most interesting results of the Census is the classification of the inhabitants, according to the countries of their birth, presented in an authentic shape, in another column. We are thus enabled to discover for the first time at what our nation is composed. The investigations under this head have resulted in showing that of the free inhabitants of the United States, 17,736,792 are natives of its soil, and that 2,210,328 were born in foreign countries, while the nativity of 29,227 could not be determined. It is shown that 1,965,518 of the whole number of foreign born inhabitants were in search of free labor, and 245,410 of the slave States. It is seen that the persons of foreign birth form 11.06 per cent. of the whole free population.—The committee, however, have been divided the large portions of these additions to our population, appear in the following statement:

Natives of Ireland	961,719	Natives of Scotland	76,670
" of England	278,675	" of Wales	16,962
Natives of Germany	574,291	" of France	54,063
" of British N. A.	143,439	All other countries	104,809
	147,779	Total	2,210,328

The proportion in which the several countries above named have contributed to the aggregate foreign population, is shown in the following table:

Ireland	43.5 per cent.	Scotland	3.37 per cent.
England	12.6 per cent.	France	2.44 per cent.
Germany	25.9 per cent.	Wales	0.76 per cent.
British N. A.	6.6 per cent.	All other countries	4.73 per cent.

This view of the living immigrant population is important, as serving to correct many extravagant notions concerning it, which have attained extensive currency.

Another interesting branch of this inquiry is that which concerns the inter-migration of our native citizens among the States. The tables presenting a statement of the progress of affairs will be most useful and valuable in tracing the progress of the work and its advantages to the town of Freeport and the country generally. Sixty-three miles have already been graded, and considerable bridging done. Contracts are now let for the remainder of the road, and there is every assurance that the amount will be increased immediately to upwards of a hundred thousand. LOCAL MATTERS.

JOB PRINTING.

We would remind our friends, and the public, that we are ready to do all kinds of JOB PRINTING at a short notice. Our machinery is entirely new, and of the latest and best styles of type.

Orders left at the Counting Room, on the ground floor, and down to the Post Office, will be promptly attended to.

☞ Our subscribers will confer a favor by giving immediate notice at the Counting Room of this office of every omission on the part of the Carriers to deliver their papers. This is the only way to insure the delivery of their paper.

THE OLD COURT HOUSE AND PRISON.—These old and faithful relics of what Chicago was, received their doom yesterday. A solid considerable amusement they were "knocked down" under the auctioneer's hammer. The prison, which has long been a nuisance to all without it, (though perhaps not so great a bore as to the victims within,) was sold for one hundred and twenty five dollars, and the court house for two hundred and seven. The Court house was one of the first brick buildings in the city, and doubtless when first erected, was looked on as a considerable affair. Alas! how mutable is all earthly glory. Like many, not so old as itself, it has lived to see its own shame, and to feel itself despised, even by those who once were its greatest admirers. Mr. Chapman purchased the former, and Mr. McAuley the latter building.

MRS. MARKHAM'S LECTURES.—Mrs. Markham has now been amongst us long enough to become independent of the excellent credentials by which she first introduced herself to us. We do not speak for ourselves, as we are not a lady, but the editor of our Home Department, and others of our fair friends and relations, assure us that the Lectures are replete with instruction and valuable, and urge us to express their conviction through our paper. We have no doubt many a one would attend, if save one clas would take the lead. There is something of the fashionable and gregarious in such matters, especially in our county where there is a full share of gentlefolkness.

The class is increasing in numbers, but is not worthy of the city. In small towns these classes have numbered nearly two hundred. The terms are low, which must not lead any to conclude that the lectures are cheap affairs. Our hope is that they will be repeated, and that to many more will profit from them.

Those who have never seen a "Modello," should not lose this opportunity. It is a wonderful work of mechanism, science and art.

ANOTHER LADIES FAIR.—We are requested to inform our readers, and especially the fair ones, that the Ladies connected with the Church of the Atonement have determined to hold a Fair at the Commercial Hotel Hall, corner of Randolph and Canal streets, on Thursday next, Dec. 23d. As many of our readers know, the friends of this church have made a most laudable effort to procure an elegant place of worship. Their lobor has been crowned with success, and for the two last Sabbaths they have occupied their new church. That church is one of the greatest ornaments in the West division of the city,—the exterior is a faithful representation of the old English style, simple, yet, with its towering roof and substantial buttresses, beautiful to look upon. With a worthy determination to "owe no man anything," they have suffered no debt to accumulate on their heads. Now, however, the church has to be furnished; and this, the ladies have generously taken in hand. They have diligently plied their needle and their skill to produce those articles which will be both useful and ornamental. They ask, and surely they will not ask in vain—other denominations and the public kindly to assist them in this labor of love. The results of their handiwork will be offered for sale on Thursday evening next at the place above mentioned.—Admittance 25 cts.—remember the occasion.

BARNEY FAIR.—Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather during Thursday and Friday evening, the friends of the First Baptist Church nothing daunted, assembled in goodly numbers at the Ladies' Fair in the City Hall, and by the close of the latter evening, the stalls, which had been well furnished with the useful and ornamental, were well cleared. On Saturday the remaining portions of the perishables were disposed of by auction. The proceeds were upwards of $500.

TEA PARTY.—The ladies of the Universalist Society have made arrangements for a Tea Party, to aid in paying the Church debt. It will take place on Christmas Eve, and every effort will be used to make the occasion agreeable and interesting. The "Irving Hall," probably the most beautiful and tastefully furnished of any in the city, has been secured; also the services of Campbell's Brass Band. Tickets $1 50 each, admitting a gentleman and two ladies—to be obtained at the Covenant office and at the door. Refreshments will be served up at a moderate charge.

THE "JOURNAL."—Our neighbor on Saturday came out in a new and very attractive attire. The vignette is also new and graceful. Upon the ashes of the old eagle, a new, noble, and spirited bird has come forth, and under his flapping wings, the Prairie City stretches in the distance. We conclude that this is emblematic of renewed vigor, and a higher ambition.

The Great Western Canada Railroad.

The Toronto Examiner gives the following accounts of the progress of this great work.

This Road is progressing with great rapidity, but the herculean works upon the sections immediately west of Hamilton, it is feared, will prevent the final from being opened through out in 1859. The cutting through of Burlington Heights is itself a gigantic undertaking, but was resolved necessary by the difficulties which interposed to prevent the bridging of the outlet of the waters of the Desjardin's Canal, and of the marsh. This work is perhaps about half done, and the wire bridge which is to span the Heights on the main road, at the elevation of about 150 feet above the water of the canal in its new channel, and having a span of about 190 feet, will soon be completed. The towers have been suspended on one side, while the timber work of the bridge is finished, and in one, although not suspended—the cable under it not having yet been removed.

"There has been a great loss of human life on this line of road—more than about 40 persons having been killed by accidents of various kinds—particularly by the falling of embankments; surely there would be less sacrifice of this kind, were proper precautions employed. Were the Company made responsible for the support of the families of those that are killed by neglect, there would be fewer accidents. The most difficult and expensive part of this section of the mountain gorge rapidly approaches completion, which is the opening of the great cutting through, removing about 200,000 cubic yards of earth, which we are informed may not be brought to the required level for many months. The deep cutting at the Dundas Valley has been greatly impeded by the difficulties arising from beds of quick sand, but with the aid of steam power, goes forward with rapidity as the nature of the soil will admit. The whole line is under contract, and contending interests give an assurance that there will be no unnecessary delay in bringing the work to a termination. The company running the line from Buffalo to Paris, &c., give energy to the work on the Great Western, and vice versâ. Both aim at the trade and passage through the south and western districts of the province. The city of Hamilton, in prospect of the advantages of its position, when the Great Western line is opened, goes forward with great rapidity in its improvements."

Knick-Knacks.

THE HEART.—Treble not with the human heart. It contains a thousand delicate strings; if you break one of them, it is not in the power of man to restore it again. If you are loved and cherished be not indifferent. If you cannot repay that love, treat it not with contempt; there are thousands repining in sorrow and solitude that a word or look might have saved from sorrow and made happy.

☞ Six cents damages and six cents costs have been recovered by Emery Matthews, in a libel suit against the N. Y. Sun.

ASSOCIATIONS have often been established for the relief of members disabled by sickness or accident, while the want of similar protection to those who depend upon their daily labor for support has long been felt. The combined Association, therefore, has been established to meet this want, and to afford relief to those who depend upon their daily labor for support, by securing the weekly sum mentioned in the following table that is considered necessary, during the continuance of the disability, for the comfortable support of the family, namely, twenty one shillings, we mean not only to relieve the pressing wants of the unfortunate victim of disease, but also to keep pace with our rapidly growing population.

TO THE LADIES we especially and most respectfully recommend the claims of our Association to their favorable calls.

Our stock comprises Parlor Hat Stands, Hoop Skirts, Bank Locks, Accordeons, and all other Paper Hangings.

Also, Window Shades, Fire Screens, Transparencies, Lithographs, Cradles, Bassinettes, Bronzes, Gilts, Prints, Mirrors, Cornices, Curtain Materials, Curtain Trimmings, and Side Lights, Shade Trimmings, Locks, and Curtain Fixtures, Gilt Mouldings, Looking Glass Plates, &c.

DURYEA & FORSYTHE'S SCALES.

THE undersigned, thankful for the very liberal patronage of the Public, would say that the assortment of Scales, of every description, from the celebrated Manufactory of Duryea & Forsythe, is now complete, and for sale at the Depot, where all orders will be promptly attended to. In view of the extensive manufacture, they have been enabled to make such reductions in prices that they have every reason to feel a great reduction on former prices, being confident that all will find it to their interest to purchase of the Agent. All the scales manufactured at this establishment, are made under the immediate supervision of the Patentees, and by the best mechanics of long experience in the manufactory of weighing apparatus, and warranted to be correct and perfect in every material and of superior workmanship. The bearing edges of the beams are made of the best steel, and great care has been taken in their adjustment. We will warrant these scales to give satisfaction in every particular, and will refund the money or make them right in every particular, as any scale in this market, and as prices that will defy competition. Call and examine before you buy of us.
